

WORD OF THE DAY

WORD OF THE DAY (Romans 13:8)

"Owe no one anything except to love one another, for he who loves another has fulfilled the law."- NKJV

MEDITATE ON THIS (Love and Money)

Personal finance is a private matter, and many seek professional consultation to manage their finances effectively. In today's devotional, we won't provide specific financial advice as each person's situation is unique. Instead, we'll discuss a Biblical principle that sheds light on God's perspective regarding money. The verse of the day by Paul contrasts our obligation to borrow money with the command to love others, and he strongly discourages the former but encourages the latter.

We live in a world where the pursuit of money dominates our lives, and the temptation to seek loans using credit cards reinforces this attitude. Although money is not inherently bad, it should not control us. It should serve us and not be our master.

When we owe money to someone, it often causes friction in our relationships, and it can even lead to legal disputes. Instead of relying on worldly ways of acquiring wealth, we should trust in God to provide for us as we pursue His work. Therefore, we should only owe love to others and avoid owing money.

- Your brother in Christ, WNL

This document was edited for grammar using You.com A.I.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Loving people or owing money, which are you obligated to today?

PRAYER FOR THE WEEK

Dear Lord, Your word states that if we fail to forgive those who wrong us, You won't forgive us. As Your children, You have called us to love others because You first loved us, and we owe them a debt of love. However, we should not have an obligation to money because loving money is the root of all kinds of evil. Please remind us to love people and not money, only owing to the former and not the latter. We offer this prayer in Jesus' name. Amen.

Spread the good news;
*Send email addresses my way to be added to the weekly email-list ****

CLICK HERE TO -- View Past Devotionals

Click to Unsubscribe